

Suddenly Midnight Blue

By Lawrence Tân JJR 69

*As the day comes to an end
Cozy up on the river bend
Flirting the moon, chasing the stars
All immersed in the color of my heart
Midnight Blue...*

*I am thinking of you
Hands on the wheel
But who knows how I feel
Defeated and heavy
Shoulders droopy
Midnight Blue...*

*Now where are you?
Got to get her there on time
The lesson costs more than a dime
While waiting in the car
My mind starts to wander afar
Midnight Blue...*

*I am thinking of you
Where do we go tonight?
Any place is just fine
Are we going to leave soon?
Yes Dear. Look! Such a perfect moon!
Hey, Midnight Blue
Are you thinking of me too?*

*The night is falling, silence is calling
Affixed to the familiar ceiling
Never afraid to die
But always dread to say goodbye
Midnight Blue...
I am thinking of you*

*I like suffering and I like pain
How do I get here, my heart is in chain
I know I'll never see the light
I fulfill my day and live by the night
Midnight Blue
Oh! How I miss you!*

Lawrence Tân - 2003